

From Pro Chancellor's Desk

“Like other spheres of life, education scenario in our country is also changing at a very fast pace. Because of revolutionary changes in the field of technology, there is multifold growth of knowledge and information. New disciplines are emerging, embodying new knowledge and techniques. The conventional course contents are rapidly becoming anachronistic.

This University is very sensitive to these changes in the world of knowledge and so we very keenly focus on updating our course-structures and their syllabi, our libraries and laboratories.

Our aim is to generate in our students the qualities of head and heart, as well as, skills of various kinds, which are necessary for them to live a successful professional as well as personal life in this modern dynamic world.”
